

MARTIN TUTWILER is a community activist who attended the University of Michigan. His dad was a community activist who marched with Dr. King and named his son after the late civil rights leader. He worked on the Gary Peters and Barack Obama campaigns. He serves as Treasurer of Young Democrats of the 12th Congressional District, member of the grassroots organization, active member of Michigan Democratic Future, and Michigan Democratic Party. Martin wants government action to create jobs, support education, provide universal healthcare and reduce the number of foreclosures